Key Concepts from Chart

Teams – similar tasks but emphasis is different

- Chennai will have more direct interaction with our Trimble customers.
- Omsk will spend more time in deeper code/technology/operations projects.
- Chennai will have some depth of skills but more focus on a wider variety of projects.
- Hope to add non-TCC project work .

Process

- When it comes to TCC we all follow our JIRA process.
- Non-TCC projects may require us to use the partner's tools or processes.

One TCC Team, One Plan and One Process...

- Omsk and Chennai Teams
  - No changes in Omsk Team or process
  - Chennai will grow 50%/year (Dev and QA/Testing)
Chennai Team now reports to Bill
  - Shared responsibilities but different focus

- Ashiq is Service Leader for On Premise Edition (OPE)
  - Notice new bucket in JIRA
  - He is now turning our meeting notes into tasks
- Sathya will assist me in research and creating specs and working with Trimble areas
- Working with Chennai on TCCEv2 pre-work.
We know feature set and goals.
  - Anticipate Omsk will handle core code, API set and client/server communications.
  - Chennai SL will own the overall project directing the UI and various platform integrators:
    - Not sure who will do Windows client UI.
    - Anticipate Trimble 'Spime' team will do Mac/IOS/Android clients.

- Working together: We now need to pair:
  - Konstantin F. and Mokana
  - Elena and (new manager we are trying to locate)
  - Evgeny and Sathya
    - Ashiq/Prabakar will need some help/direction from Evgeny
- Propose we all meet in Omsk week of December 9?
  - Bill, Adam, Sathya, Mokana, Ashiq and Prabakar
- Looking forward to Evgeny and Konstantin coming...
  - Alpharetta office with Bill, Anthony, Adam, Sathya
  - Amazon AWS conference in Las Vegas

- Pending issues/questions from Chennai:
  - Ticket selection/assignment coordination
  - Code branching discussion...
